Over the course of its 50-odd years of history, the Université de Sherbrooke has earned a solid reputation for itself and is now considered to be one of Canada's best universities.

The amphitheatre of Salle Maurice-O'Bready is the fourth largest in Quebec, with 1501 seats. It has a high fidelity FM stereophonic sound system that enables its audiences to receive the maximum of sound while benefiting from perfect listening conditions, totally exempt from ambient noise.

The cultural centre houses two well equipped corporate rooms for hosting small groups. These facilities can be used as general headquarters, work rooms or simply meeting places for your guests. There are also four spacious foyers which can be used for a variety of purposes: press conferences, book launchings, gala evenings, fairs, buffet or opening a convention. These four lateral venues offer an exceptional meeting framework. Each has toilet facilities, bars and cloakrooms. Both the two at the parterre (ground) level and the two at the balcony level can accommodate large groups for a cocktail reception, a banquet or a dinner and show.
